DEMOCRATS MAY KEEP NEWBERRY CASE UNDECIDED

Matter Buried In Committee Would Prevent Issue

ARE THREE PLANS

Probably Will Recommit Whole Case To Senate Body

Washington, Jan. 11.—Abandonment of the Democratic plan to move for the recommitment of the case of Senator Truman H. Newberry to the senate which investigated the expenditure of about $195,000 in his campaign was announced today by Senator Hitchcock, Democrat, Nebraska, the acting Democratic leader of the senate.

The Newberry case was discussed by Senator Willis, Republican of Ohio with President Harding at the White House today. Willis is one of the progressive Republicans, who are reported "on the fence". Willis refused to discuss how he intended to vote, or what had transpired between him and the president who is known to be taking a keen interest in the rapidly shifting developments in the senate general.

Washington, Jan. 11.—Democratic leaders of the senate agreed upon a new plan to force a showdown today on the right of Senator Truman H. Newberry to hold his seat.

The Democratic plan was as follows:

1—A motion to be made probably by Senator Pomerene, Ohio, to recommit the whole Newberry case to the senate committee which investigated the expenditure of about $195,000 in the Newberry campaign with instructions to the committee to summon Newberry to reply to questions by committee members or;

2—A motion to be made probably by Senator Harrison, of Mississippi, in case the previous one fails, that Henry Ford be declared not entitled to a seat in the senate or;

3—A motion to be made as to the last recourse, that Newberry not be entitled to his seat.

The first motion is expected by Democratic leaders to prevail, and to receive considerable Republican support, it was stated. It would probably bury the entire Newberry case in committee for an indefinite period.

It was declared by Republican leaders of the senate that the real objective of the Democratic maneuver was to keep Newberry in his seat, and the whole Newberry controversy "open" as a prospective "issue" of the coming congressional campaign.

Newberry were to be unseated, the Democrats would be deprived of an "issue" upon which they are banking, it was explained.

The situation on the Republican side was said to have narrowed down to four "doubtful" Republican votes—those of Johnson, of California; Wheeler, of Maryland; Poindexter, of Washington and Lenroot, of Wisconsin.

A canvass disclosed that Willis, of Ohio, Capper, of Kansas; Jones, of Washington and Sutherland, of West Virginia are almost certain to join the six progressive Republican senators already committed against Newberry it was stated.

The "sure ones" are Borah, of Idaho; Kenyon, of Iowa; Norris, of Nebraska; Ladd, of North Dakota; Norbeck, of South Dakota and Lafollette, of Wisconsin.

Senator Crow, of Pennsylvania, unable to be present on account of his continued illness, has been "paired" with Senator Kendrick, of Wyoming, a Republican "for" with a Democrat "against". This is the only "pair" thus far recorded.

BANKING HOUSES RE-ELECT THE SAME OFFICERS FOR YEAR

Three Xenia banking institutions electing directors and officers for the year 1922, named the same officials who served during last year.

Officers of the Commercial and Savings Bank are C. L. Babbs, president; Ed S. Foust, vice president; A. E. Faulkner, cashier and J. A. Bales, assistant cashier. The board of directors is composed of H. H. Conklin, chairman, C. L. Babbs, Ed S. Foust, A. E. Faulkner, R. R. Grieves, C. M. Austin, and W. L. Miller.

The Xenia National Bank elected the same officers and directors as follows: George Little, president; George R. Kelly, vice president; D. M. Stewart, vice president and John A. Nisbet cashier. These officers, with W. D. Wright, H. E. Davy and C. A. Weaver, composed the board of directors.

The Citizens National Bank re-named the following officers and directors: R. S. Kingsbury, president; H. L. Smith, vice president; M. L. Wolf, cashier; T. D. Kyle, assistant cashier; O. M. Whitington, assistant cashier and directors R. D. Adair, H. L. Smith, S. B. LeSoudre, M. L. Wolf, R. S. Kingsbury, Henry Fetz and George Galloway.

BELGIUM MUST END ALLIANCE SAYS PREMIER

This is Necessary for Participation In New Pact Is Word

MUST BE NEUTRAL

Agreement Was Made After Conclusion of the World War.

Cannes, France, Jan. 11.—Premier Lloyd George is anxious to have Belgium participate in the proposed Anglo-French alliance, but will oppose her admission so long as she retains her military alliance with France, it was learned this afternoon.

The British premier has suggested to M. Jasper, Belgian foreign minister, that Belgium return to her pre-war status of neutrality. The military alliance with France was contracted since the war and at about the same time that France entered into a similar treaty with Poland.

Premier Lloyd George drew up the preamble to the proposed treaty stating the condition on which Britain would enter the agreement and the price of Britain to guarantee the soil of France. Great Britain refused to recognize the German rhineland as "French soil" and refused to guarantee the territorial integrity of Poland.

The first British condition is avoidance of naval competition an issue which arises from France's demand for 90,000 tons of submarine craft in the Washington conference.

The German economic experts summoned here by the allied supreme council to furnish information upon the financial and industrial condition of Germany, arrived today.

Premier Briand left for Paris at 3 o'clock this afternoon to explain the Anglo-French alliance and the German indemnity issues to the cabinet. He is expected to return Friday.

Cannes, France, Jan. 11.—Premier Bonomi, of Italy, today addressed a communication to Premier Lloyd George of England, asking for a treaty of alliance between Italy and Britain similar to that proposed between Britain and France.

THINKS THIEF IS SOCIALIST

Ironton, O., Jan. 11.—Charles Chick, of Sedgwick, whose chickens were recently stolen, says the only identification of the thief is the likelihood that he is a socialist, for he took only one third. Chick says if he had been a Democrat he would have taken one half of them and if he had been a Republican would have taken all of them. The question now arises: What would the thief have done if he had no political affiliations?

The kidnapping theory arose out of the report that an automobile filled with strange men was seen near the river bank where the children were last observed at play.

Although no one saw any of the occupants leave the car the fact that the automobile and the children were last seen at about the same time gave rise to the abduction report.

Reitties of the Kiefer girl declared that her grandmother, Mrs. Isabelle Holroyd, is wealthy and believes that she may be approached with a demand for ransom.

Meanwhile hundreds of men and women of Delafield county continued the search along the Milwaukee river. Dynamite is being used to break away the ice and the bottom of the river after the ice is cleared away is being dragged for the bodies.

SEEK STRANGE MEN FOLLOWING THEORY CHILDREN KIDNAPED

Girl Aged 8 and Boy 6 Mysteriously Disappear In Illinois.

Kingston, Ill., Jan. 11.—The fate of eight year old Isabel Kiefer and six year old Roger Brown remained a mystery today, as the search that began last Saturday when the two children disappeared continued with hundreds of men and women participating.

Messages have been flashed throughout the middle west asking the authorities to keep close watch for suspects who may have kidnapped the children. Description of the two youngsters have been sent broadcast.

Sweeping Survey of Liquor Conditions In Cuyahoga County Made

Cleveland, Jan. 11.—Coroner P. A. Hammond will appear before the grand jury, today, to present evidence in two cases recently investigated in which deaths are said to have resulted from drinking poison booze. The state will ask the grand jury to return manslaughter indictments in both cases against the sellers of the poison, it was stated.

The present grand jury, acting under instructions from Presiding Judge Frederick Walther is making a sweeping survey of liquor conditions in Cuyahoga county and a large number of indictments are expected to be returned when the jury begins voting upon the evidence.

Meanwhile it is said that it is becoming increasingly difficult to obtain intoxicants in Cleveland. Blind tigers, which formerly retailed their wares without much regard as to the identity of their patrons, are now said to be selling only to customers with long established and dearly bought reputations for "reliability."

U. S. Action on Economic Conference Dependent on Outcome of Conclave Now

President Harding and Secretary of State Hughes Non-Committal About Genoa Meeting Two Months Hence It Is Now Learned.

Washington, Jan. 11.—The degree to which the United States will participate in the forthcoming economic conference in Genoa two months hence is dependent on the outcome of the present armament conference. Until it is possible to view the accomplishments of this present conference en bloc, President Harding and Secretary of State Hughes prefer to remain non-committal about the Genoa meeting.

While inquirers are informed officially that the matter of the Genoa conference is under "careful consideration," it is known that this view has been communicated to European statesmen now in Washington, who have sought to ascertain the Administration's views.

Within another two weeks, three at the most, the administration leaders hope the arms conference will have finished its work and the half dozen or more treaties that come out of it will be ready for submission to the senate. Then the decision will be made as to whether the United States will be represented at Genoa by regularly accredited delegates, which means full participation or by "unofficial observers" who would actually take no part in the framing of measures for Europe's economic rehabilitation.

The administration does not contemplate a breakdown in the present conference in any important particular but the president and his cabinet are unanimous in the belief that committing the United States to another conference while the first one is still in a plastic state would be a tactical error.

All of the nations represented at the Washington conference are desperately anxious to have the United States a full participant in the Genoa meeting. This is particularly true of the European nations and the fact that the American government is on the fence will, it is believed, have a beneficial effect in speeding up the settlement of the final details here in Washington.

ONE DEAD; TWO FATAL LY HURT AS ENGINE PLUNGES 100 FEET DOWN EMBANKMENT

Ironton, Ohio, Jan. 11.—In one of the worst railroad accidents in the history of the C. & O. road, which occurred at 6:35 o'clock this morning at a point one and a half miles north of Sciotoville, in what is known as the Sciotoville cut, J. Gerald Callahan, aged 24, employee by the C. & O. northern, as a fireman, was instantly killed and L. K. Perry, engineer, and G. C. Caldwell, brakeman, so badly injured that their death is expected at any moment.

The dead: J. Gerald Callahan, fireman, Russell Ky.

The injured: L. K. Perry, engineer, Russell Ky.; G. C. Caldwell, brakeman, Clermont, Ky.

Callahan was caught in the cab of a giant C. & O. locomotive as it was precipitated one hundred feet down an embankment, as a result of spreading rails on a comparatively new fill. When his body was taken from the engine, which turned completely over several times in its plunge, it was scarcely more than an unrecognizable mass of bruised and burned flesh.

Engineer Perry, sensing the seriousness of the accident, called to Callahan and Caldwell to jump, and suiting his action to his words escaped from the rapidly settling locomotive and escaped being crushed. Caldwell also avoided the engine by jumping. Both men, however, were so severely scalped by escaping steam that it is believed they will die.

Four children killed in accident—Engineer Out Under Bond.

Van Wert, O., Jan. 11.—A rigid probe is being made today by Van Wert county officials of the crossing wreck yesterday morning in which four children were killed and 24 others seriously injured. Several of the children passengers on a school bus in Ridge township, are in a very critical condition and other deaths are feared.

J. E. Trimble, of Fort Wayne, engineer of the Pennsylvania freight train which struck the bus at a crossing, was killed and 24 others seriously injured. The children passengers on a school bus in Ridge township, are in a very critical condition and other deaths are feared.

One of the troublesome problems before Congress, he said, is the apportionment bill.

The lower house once passed a measure leaving undisturbed the present number 435 Congressmen, but the senate failed to pass it. Now it all has to be done over again.

Fess said he feared some increase in membership will have to be granted as a concession to states which don't want the number of their representatives reduced. Even if the total number remains 435, Ohio will have 24 instead of 22 congressmen. If an increase in the total number is granted so as not to rob any state of its present volume of representation there will have to be 482 congressmen. That would give Ohio 26. If the number can't be kept at 435, Fess said, he hopes a compromise for about 460 may be agreed on.

With no session of the Ohio General Assembly in sight to redistrict the state, Ohio will have at least two congressmen-at-large and possibly more to elect next fall, Fess pointed out.

HORSESHOE WORLD MAKES APPEARANCE FROM WILMINGTON

The first number of The Horseshoe World, a publication devoted exclusively to the sport of horseshoe pitching, and said to be the first official organ of that branch of sport ever published, has just been issued from Wilmington where its headquarters are located.

Raymond E. Howard, city editor of the Wilmington News-Journal, is editor of the new magazine and C. Ervin Sturm of Wilmington, is business manager of the publication. In the first editorial, the publishers announce their purpose as one of stimulating interest in the horseshoe pitching game and to be of benefit to all pitchers and horseshoe clubs.

The initial issue contains a message from President Harding, and one from Frank Smith, sporting editor of the Chicago Tribune, endorsing the movement, besides a number of endorsements and well-wishes from Ohio horseshoe pitchers. Its contents are made up of news of the horseshoe pitching fraternity and articles furthering the sport.

REV. W. A. HALE IS CALLED BY DEATH TUESDAY MORNING

The Rev. W. A. Hale, 74, one of the leading pastors of Dayton, well-known in Xenia and Greene County, passed away at his residence, 643 Salem Avenue, Tuesday morning at 4:30 o'clock. Dr. Hale's death came unexpectedly, following a relapse, which he suffered, Tuesday.

His death occurs just previous to the dedication of the new Grafton Avenue, Reformed Church, of Dayton, of which the Rev. Hale was pastor.

It is thought that of Dr. Hale's health had been undermined by work, and death was the result of an attack of acute indigestion, he suffered New Year's.

Dr. Hale was one of the leading pastors of Dayton for the past 45 years. Last February he resigned as pastor of the First Reformed Church, of which he had been pastor for the past forty years, and planned to build the new church on two lots that had been donated. The Grafton Avenue Church was begun last summer, and the work was completed recently. During the building operations the congregation increased to such an extent that it was necessary to build an "L" in order to make room.

Funeral services for Dr. Hale, which will be held, Friday morning will be the first services to be held in the church he had toiled to construct. The services will be held at eleven o'clock, in charge of the Rev. H. J. Christman, president of the Central Theological seminary. The body will lie in state at the residence, Thursday afternoon, until 10:30 p.m.

The late Dr. J. J. Snyder, of this city, was a brother of the Rev. Hale.

Do you know the best and most economical cooking medium?

How you can save money--and have better and more digestible food

ATTEND the free demonstrations and lectures to be given by the Corn Products Refining Company's expert domestic science teacher, Rose L. Weilenman, at R. D. Adair's Furniturere Store all this week Jan. 12, 13 and 14.

Every housewife knows that there is a lot of waste with ordinary frying fats.

You wouldn't care to use over again lard or grease in which you have fried fish or onions. You couldn't use this fat to shorten a cake—or make a salad dressing.

But there is one cooking oil that millions of women all over the country use in just these ways.

This is Mazola—the Great American Cooking and Salad Oil. You can strain Mazola and use it over and over again, until to last drop—even after frying fish or onions.

There is not one particle of odor or flavor carried from one food to another. And after using for any cooking purpose you can take what is left and use it as shortening for the most delicate cake, or for a perfect salad oil. It may seem difficult to believe these remarkable facts. But they can be proved to your absolute satisfaction.

You will see a piece of fish, a slice of onion, and a banana fritter fried in the same pan—at the same time. And you can taste the fritter, and see for yourself that absolutely no odor or flavor has been carried to it.

This should convince even the most skeptical that Mazola is the finest and most economical cooking oil you can possibly use.

Do not miss this opportunity for conclusive demonstration. Bring pad and pencil and take notes during the lecture. Women's Clubs, Teachers' Organizations, and high school domestic science classes especially invited.

Social and Personal

DANCING PARTY GIVEN ON TUESDAY.

INTERESTING PROGRAM AT MISSIONARY MEETING.

One of the smartest of the mid-winter social affairs, was given at the Elk's Club, Tuesday evening, when Mr. and Mrs. Robert Arthur Kelly, entertained at a dance, honoring Miss Katherine Louise Shoup, and her fiance, Mr. Henry Lawrence Farrell, of New York City, and Miss Shoup's house guest, Miss Eleanor Tyne, of Nashville, Tennessee.

The guests of the evening were received by Mr. and Mrs. Kelly, Miss Tyne, Mr. Farrell, Miss Shoup, and Judge and Mrs. Marcus Shoup.

Mrs. Kelly was charming in her wedding gown of silver metal cloth, with silver slippers. Her corsage was of American Beauty roses, the effect being carried out with a fan of American Beauty and a handsome ornament of similar shade in her hair.

Miss Tyne wore a gown of pale blue taffeta, trimmed in hand made flowers. Her corsage was of pink roses and white narcissi.

Miss Shoup's gown was of sapphire blue sequins, with American Beauty tulles caught and draped at each side. Her corsage was of American Beauty roses.

Mrs. Shoup was attired in a handsome creation of black, trimmed with black and silver sequins. Her corsage was of pink roses.

The home-like rooms of the club, were decked in festive profusion for the function, a novel arrangement being used. The ball room was centered with a huge bank of palms and ferns, and other potted plants. Gay Japanese lanterns were hung about the hall, festoons of cedar being intertwined, and fastened to the corners of the room.

Unique and enjoyable features added to the evening's entertainment. Clever favors were presented each guest, the men receiving paper caps, and the women, toy balloons. The merriest event of the evening, was a snake dance, led by James D. Adair, when favors of horns were given the men, and tick-tacks to the women.

Later in the evening, the lights of the hall were dimmed and the guests danced by the light of sparklers which they carried. At a late hour, a delicious buffet luncheon was served to the guests in the card room.

Out of town guests for the affair were Miss Tyne, of Nashville, Tennessee; Miss Isabel Huber, of Dayton; Mr. Frederick Neitheimir, of McCook field; Messrs. Robert and Harold Whitmore, of Dayton; Mr. Bert Reynolds, of Cincinnati; Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Shoup, of near Xenia, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenyon Riddle, of Middle-town.

Music for the dances was furnished by the Don O'Neil orchestra of Springfield.

DEMONSTRATIONS OF TRACTOR USES GIVEN IN XENIA

HUNDRED SOLDIERS APPLY FOR BONUS TUESDAY IN XENIA

Seventy five men, principally farmers and tractor users, attended the tractor demonstration given under the auspices of the Ford Motor Company at the Bryant Auto Sales agency here, Tuesday night, and had the workings and operations of the tractor explained to them.

Mr. Miller and Mr. Fairchild, department heads of the Ford Motor Company, each addressed the gathering and presented moving pictures showing the proper operation of tractors and the making of seed beds. The speakers also presented a model tractor, by use of which they showed the gears and parts of the machine and explained how repairs could be made by the owners without taking the tractor to a mechanic.

Several demonstrations of the use of the tractor was shown in the motion pictures, and one film depicted the growth of a seed, from the time it was planted until it sprang through the earth, contrasting the proper with the improper manner of making seed beds.

After the pictures and the addresses, the Ford Motor Company representatives, answered numerous questions put to them from the audience. The purpose of the demonstration was to give the farmers a better understanding of the tractor, and other similar meetings are to be held from time to time, according to E. R. Bryant of the Bryant Auto Sales.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD TUESDAY FOR D. W. WILLIAMSON

Impressive funeral services for D. Walker Williamson, were held at the Second United Presbyterian Church, Tuesday afternoon at two thirty o'clock. Each superintendent is requested to have the work for the coming year, outlined, to be given at the meeting.

BOOTERY FIVE WINS FROM STERLINGS

Holding the Sterlings to but one field goal in the second half, the Bruson Bootery basketball team came out on the long end of a 32 to 10 score at the Rink last night.

The airtight defense of the Bootery aggregation necessitated the Sterlings using long shots almost altogether and they seldom connected. The first half ended 12 to 8 in favor of the shoe stores combination. The lineup and summary:

Bruson—32 Sterlings—10
Woolary (c) Finley
Milburn R. F. Lackey
Schwab C Cowan
Hoey L. G. Lane
Curlett R. G. Arnold (c)

Substitutions: Gordon for Milburn, Wakely for Curlett, Scamphorn for Gordon, Hagler for Lane, Spaar for Arnold. Field Goals: Schwab 7, Woolary 4, Scamphorn 2, Curlett 1, Milburn 1, Lackey 2, Arnold 1. Cowan 1, Finley 1. Foul Goals: Gordon 2. Referee: Galligher.

XENIA VICTORS LOSE; SCORE 15-9

With the score standing 4 to 3 at the end of the first half the Englewood Giants staged a comeback in the second period, that enabled them to easily defeat the Xenia Victors at the Rink Tuesday night by the total score of 15 to 9. Tight guarding marked the game in the first half, with Jones of the locals, securing a field goal and foul for his team while Kleipinger and Faulkner each contributed a field goal for the visitors' total in that period. Goals by Zink, Faulkner and Nill enabled the visitors to forte to the front in the second session, while the locals were practically helpless. The lineup and summary:

Victors—9 Englewood—17
Jones L. F. Faulkner
Stevens R. F. Zink
Haley C Buckey
Jackson L. G. Kleipinger
Snell R. G. Nill

"RED HEADS" WILL PLAY FOR DANCE

As an added attraction to the double-header basketball game to be staged at the Rink Wednesday night, Fred Moreland's "Red Heads" will furnish music for a dance that will continue until one o'clock after the second game.

EAST END NEWS

George W. Broadice, formerly of this city, died Sunday morning at his home in Chicago, Ill., from leakage of the heart and his remains will be brought to the home of his sister, Mrs. Julia Howard, East Church Street and the funeral will be held Thursday afternoon at o'clock from the First A. M. E. Church. Surviving him is his daughter, Mrs. Almesta McDonald, of Chicago. One brother, John of Chicago and three sisters Edna Bankhead of Ogdon, Utah; Magnolia Anderson, whose whereabouts is unknown and Julia Howard of this city.

The ex-service men, bringing in their claims, kept busy Commander Jacob Colp and Adjutant Carl Ervin who have the distribution in charge, as well as a corps of assistants composed of five girls from the typewriting department at Central High School, and a notary public.

The rush was so great during the afternoon, that each claimant had to be dispatched as soon as he had sworn enough of his papers, and the balance of each application had to be finished ready to be sent in at night.

PRICE OF EGGS DROPS IN XENIA

A sudden drop of ten cents in the price of eggs in New York and Chicago, Tuesday, resulted in the H. B. Hole Produce company branch in this city, dropping to 2 cents as a buying price for eggs almost overnight.

The sudden flooding of the markets in New York and Chicago with storage eggs, brought about the sudden drop is said. Whole-sellers had a large quantity of storage eggs on hand, which when opened up Tuesday, knocked the bottom out of the egg market, that was felt here by retailers and wholesalers.

Eggs quoted at 41 cents in New York, Monday were marked 31, Tuesday, and the local branch of the Hole Company received a notification from the company headquarters to drop to 20 cents as a buying price. In the meantime local retailers are "up in the air" over the sudden drop. Not knowing where the market is going to stabilize, they are undecided on price. Many merchants have eggs purchased for 35 cents and they are trying to save what they can by getting the best price possible.

According to the Hole agency here, the market will not be stable for a day or so, so that the uniform price that will result is not yet known. They expect a wholesale price of 23 or 24 cents, however.

JUNIORS TO PLAY
It will be the St. Brigid's Juniors instead of the St. Brigid's Cadets that will meet the Bomber Midges from Dayton at the ring Wednesday night, preliminary to the game between the Borings and Cedarville College. Following the big game there will be a dance in the rink.

They had been long standing friends.

The editorial staff of the East Hi Messenger presents Mr. Harris of Wilberforce University in a dramatic Recital at the East Hi School Friday, January 13. Mr. Harris is both able and pleasing as a dramatic School talent will be selected to supplement his readings.

The home of Mr. Rollo Pettiford was a scene of much gayety Saturday night, when a group of his friends and associates, in response to an invitation from his wife and daughter, gathered to remind him of his birthday. Having been called away from home, Mr. Pettiford returned about 8:30 and upon unlocking the door and stepping into a dark room, decided, when he saw the figure of a person that he was the victim of robbers, but the immediate turning on of lights told him the intruders were only a body of harmless friends. The house was beautifully decorated in pink and white. In the dining room a huge bouquet of fragrant sweet peas, which was the gift of his daughter Mary Elizabeth, transformed the room into a mid-summer scene. Mrs. Hattie Corbin, representing the guests presented Mr. Pettiford with a handsome silk umbrella and a box of handkerchiefs. After extinguishing the forty candles on the beautiful birthday cake, Mr. Pettiford gave an appropriate speech of appreciation. A three course luncheon was served after which the remainder of the evening was spent in various games. Miss Bernice Gaines presided at the piano. Mrs. Pettiford and daughter proved to be very charming hostesses.

HOPE THAT THIS MEANS SETTLEMENT OF THE IRISH QUESTION.

The treaty creating the Irish Free State was ratified Saturday night by the Dail Eireann by a majority of 7 votes, 64 to 57.

The Dail owes its existence to election by the people under the terms of the British act of Parliament which defined the constituencies, allotted their number and prescribed proportional representation as the method of election.

The intention of the act, of course, was that members so elected should constitute the Parliament of Southern Ireland under the Home Rule act of 1920.

If that Parliament ever had been constituted it could conduct elections any time in accordance with provisions of the statute.

But all Sinn Fein members refused to attend the Parliament, a preliminary condition of whose existence was allegiance to the King, and formed the Dail Eireann instead.

There is none of the customary machinery for conducting regular elections. By the terms of the treaty, its ratification only can be effected, not by the Dail, but by a meeting of members elected to the Southern Parliament, whether they accepted that office or not.

Under the treaty it is the function of the British Government to summon the ratifying body, but all steps in that direction were postponed until it should be seen from the division of the Dail whether it was worth while.

It is assumed now that the ratification body will be summoned immediately, but it is not known if 57 opposing members will desire to attend. It is supposed that their complete repudiation of the treaty may lead to their absence.

In that case it is possible that the treaty might be ratified by such members as meet; they would number 71 out of a total membership of 130. There has been discussion as to whether this would be regarded as sufficient, but it seems to be plain that it is the Government's intention, particularly in view of the admitted approval of the Irish people, generally to place no technical obstacle in the way of the treaty.

It has become apparent Eamon DeValera's resignation as President of the Republic did not take an official form, and the outstanding question now is whether he will make effective his expressed intention to resign, and if he does not what will become of the Dail.

It is quite evident that ninety per cent of the people favor the treaty, as is evidenced from the fact that on Sunday there was general rejoicing and that prayers of thanksgiving went up from all the churches.

THE NEWBERRY-FORD CASE A HARD NUT TO CRACK.

While paying a personal tribute to Senator Truman H. Newberry, of Michigan, President Harding made plain he would not be drawn into the Senate controversy over Mr. Newberry's right to retain his seat in the face of charges that $263,000 was spent to have him elected. The President said he held Mr. Newberry in very high esteem, but wants it distinctly understood he does not consider it his function to participate in the Senate contest in any way.

His position was made known as the Senate formally entered upon consideration of the Ford-Newberry election contest. It served, in effect, as refutation of charges that his attention to Mr. Newberry at White House dinners and on the golf links along with his entertainment of Senators regarded "doubtful" on the contest have been in line with efforts of a "social bloc" to keep Mr. Newberry in the Senate.

The fight of the Democrats was directed chiefly at the claims advanced that Mr. Newberry was unacquainted with the activities of his primary Campaign Committee, and, therefore, was not responsible for its actions. It was that committee which, Mr. Ford has charged, spent approximately $250,000 to win the nomination and election.

A short time ago the Tampa Tribune set a record that has never been surpassed in the United States by carrying 48 pages of advertising in one issue for the Tampa Hardware Company. It was the largest amount of advertising ever run by one firm in this country in one issue of a newspaper.

Now comes the St. Petersburg Times of Sunday, January 1st, with 36 pages of advertising for the Dann-Gerow Company of St. Petersburg. Thus to a second Florida paper goes the second biggest advertising record.

Florida by no means does things by halves, and these records established the fact that Florida can boast of some of the liveliest business men in the country.

all over the country is another result of Faith. And so all along the way—Faith does things.

How wonderful Faith is anyway, when you come to think of it! Invisible though it be, still does it stand out in worth as more valuable than all the wealth you might wish.

If you rise in the morning with plenty of Faith, your entire day is sure to be success-filled with accomplishment and helpfulness.

You may attempt anything if you have Faith!

Faith alone is going to right the world. For without it, all the love and tolerance and patience and ability we possess, cannot be mustered for successful service.

Faith's the thing. Just remember this, and have it!

BEAUTY CHATS

CHAPPED HANDS

At this season and for several months to come, one of the most common complaints that I hear is about chapped hands and chapped lips. The chapped lips can be avoided in winter by using a lip stick of white cold cream which comes specially for the on them during the day, and at night only if you wear special gloves to keep the oil from staining the bed linen. Therefore, such a cosmetic as the honey-almond lotion is invaluable because it is absorbed into the skin, softens and nourishes it and incidentally, bleaches it white, yet contains no grease at all.

It is a little bit difficult to make; that is, the almonds contained in it must be blanched and then pounded up into a paste. But if you do this you will not have a bit of difficulty in making this lotion for yourself. It is as follows:

Quince seed 1-3 ounce

Cold water 1 pint

Steep this for 12 hours, strain through a cloth or a fine strainer, without pressure. Then take

Sweet almonds 1 ounce

These are blanched (shells removed before they are weighed), bruised and pounded fine. Then to the milky substance thus produced, add

Glycerine 1 ounce

Boric acid 30 grains

Oil of bitter almonds 4 drops

Pure honey 1-2 ounce

Strain and keep in a bottle.

Fanny: White spots on the nails are not a disfigurement. They can be removed, if you wish, by covering the nail with a paste made of equal parts of turpentine and myrrh. This can be used at night and removed in the morning with olive oil.

Anxious: To cure nits in the hair first soak the hair and scalp with kerosene and tie up all night. Shampoo and dry, soak the head in vinegar and comb with a fine tooth comb until all the eggs have been combed out. After that there will be no more trouble.

FAITH'S THE THING

How deep a thing is Faith! How wide is it—how high it is! Once you grasp its scope and measure, the whole world is colored by it. And you walk your way ahead—firmly.

For Faith is like a great love—it takes possession of you, wrapping your entire being in its folds.

But Faith keeps you so warm! And makes your impossible looking things easily possible.

Faith is quite often lost—but it can always be found within your reach. All you have to do is to HAVE Faith.

—and it's yours, sparkle into your eyes, firmness into your steps and a sense of bigness in your heart.

Oh, Faith's the thing if you want to be Somebody!

All strong acting people have Faith. That's what makes them strong acting.

My fingers run over the keys that type this Talk because somebody had faith in a new way of putting words clearly on paper. The light shirt and the bottom tucked into the skirt—this new blouse is worn over the skirt, and may be made like any of the silk overblouses that slip over the head, with round or V-neck, in plain white or with a touch of brilliant color.

One of the nicest of these blouses imported from France this season is shown in the sketch. It has a collar and pockets eyeleted in black. Another very attractive blouse, but for costume wear, is a crepe de chine model in the shade of coral which was so fashionable in Paris this season. Shiny black beads mark the panels and wrists.

SAFETY WEEK.

Our village had a "Safety Week," when autos slowly ran, and victims were not heard to shriek—it was a splendid plan; all over town a gent must seek, to find a mangled man. With windshields labeled "Safety First," our trusty horns we blew, and curbed all wild desires to burst such speed laws as we knew; and no pedestrians were hearsed until the week was through. The smiling voter went his ways and had no broken spine; no accident in seven days! A record truly fine; and rival towns, in stark amaze, beheld that record shine. But when the Safety Week was done the boys stepped on the gas; so swiftly did the motors run they burned up all the grass; as shot from some Big Bertha gun, we saw the autos pass. Our Safety Week had strained the nerves of speed fiends and their kin; a stretch of virtue often serves to start a stretch of sin; and cars went whooping round the curves, fine cars, and cars of tin. The coroner, on nimble feet, went questing here and there; he found a wreck in every street, and dead men everywhere; before his labors were complete he wept and tore his hair. And while he let the briny leak, he said, "My job's a frost; it's bad enough when people seek the speed cops to exhaust, but when we've had a Safety Week, my landmarks all are lost."

BELLBROOK

Wanted—Ten thousand men, women and children, with all the musical instruments known to the age to take part in a gigantic fox drive in Sugarcreek township on Thursday, Jan. 12, 1922. From present indications this drive promises to eclipse all efforts so far attempted, it being generally conceded that the country to be covered is much more thickly populated with foxes than any other section of Greene Co. The proceeds derived from the sale of foxes will be turned over to the local Red Cross.

A clay bird and rifle match will take place at the conclusion of the drive. Lunch will be served on the grounds. If the weather is bad the drive will occur the following day!

The lines will move promptly at 9 o'clock and will form as follows: East line—Little Miami River from river bridge on Upper Bellbrook pike to river bridge on Bellbrook and Spring Valley pike, and from Spring Valley pike, South along Skinner road to Middle Run and Mt. Holly road. South line—From Frank Smith's corner, west along Mt. Holly and Middle Run to Ferry whence west along Social Row road to Dayton and Lebanon pike. West line—from Second cross roads below Centerville, north along Dayton and Lebanon pike to David's Church. North line—East on a line from David's Church to Snyder's Crossing on Dayton and Wilmington pike, thence east on Swigart road to Bellbrook and Alpha road, thence east on a line to the Miami River.

TURK LEADER IN BERLIN

BUS OPERATORS MUST PAY FEE

Springfield, Jan. 11.—Bus operators of Springfield will be forced to pay a license fee to the city provide a suitable bond for liability insurance for the protection of passengers, operate only on streets not served by street car lines, and to establish and maintain regular schedules of operation, as the result of the new ordinance passed by the city commissioners at the meeting held Monday night. The new ordinance was taken as an emergency measure, and will be effective immediately.

Persons operating passenger automobiles as busses for want of employment, are specifically exempted from several provisions of the ordinance. Their license fee and bond was placed especially low and they were given the privilege of operating on streets already served by street car lines. This was done, it was explained, because such persons are not operating busses as a commercial business.

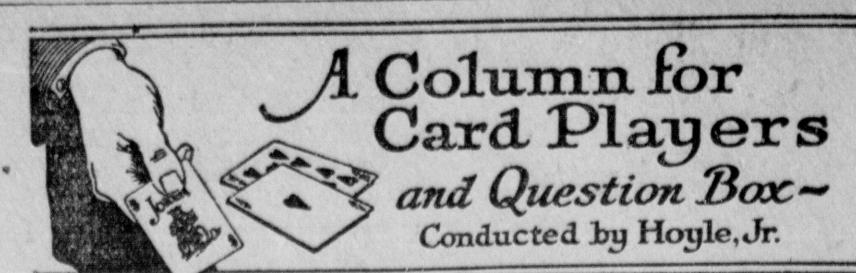

ONE DEAD WHEN FIRE SWEEPS GARAGE

Hamilton, Jan. 10.—Forty automobiles were destroyed and George Imhoff, 50, assistant to the county surveyor, was burned to a crisp late yesterday afternoon when the garage of the Central Motor Car Company was destroyed by fire with an estimated loss of $80,000.

The fire was started by burning gasoline let loose from an upper floor when Imhoff drove his machine into the garage and knocked down a supporting post which caused the floor to cave in precipitating autos and gasoline below. Imhoff was pinned under his car beneath the wreckage.

PEPPER SWORN IN

Washington, Jan. 10.—George Wharton Pepper noted Philadelphia lawyer and publicist, was sworn in at 12:05 o'clock today as the senatorial successor of the late Senator Boles Penrose.

A Column for Card Players and Question Box—Conducted by Hoyle, Jr.

With the bidding finished, and the right to play the hand purchased, then—"The Play's the Thing."

The original leader, who is the player to the left of the highest bidder, or the one who first mentioned the suit, should strive to help his partner make good his suit.

In Auction the leader always has a cue for his opening lead. If his partner has made no bid, the inference is that he holds no valuable suit. If he has bid, then lead the highest of three or less and the lowest of four or more cards of his suit. If you hold the command of your partner's suit, always play it. If you hold honors in sequence, lead the highest. This is in accordance with the old rule, "Get rid of the command of your partner's suit."

Keep the command of the opponent's suit.

Against a no-trump make, the Eldest hand or Leader should open with the following cards:

Lead Ace when holding—
1. Ace Queen, Jack, and others with re-entry card.

2. Ace, and seven small cards.

3. Ace, Queen, and five small cards.

4. Ace, Jack, and five small cards.

5. King, Queen, Jack, and others.

6. King, Queen, Ten, and others.

7. King, Queen and five small cards.

Lead Queen when holding—
1. Queen, Jack, Ten and others.

2. Queen, Jack, Nine, and others.

3. Ace, Queen, Jack, and others, without re-entry card.

Lead Jack when holding—
Jack, Ten Nine and others.

King, Jack, Ten and others.

In a no-trump make your long suit is in no danger of being ruffed as each card is worth its face value, so unless it is already established, the chances for bringing it in will be increased by opening with a low card. When opening with low, always lead your fourth best.

The only exception to the above in opening high card combinations is when you hold no re-entry card and have no show to make your suit. In that case, cash any trick the hand may have to save a little slam and to see Dummy's strength.

There are but few, indeed, very few exceptions to the rule that your partner's suit be led at once.

More tricks, games and rubbers are lost by the failure to give the partner's suit than by any other single error.

Give partner his suit first. Your good suit will keep, and the Dummy's weakness will generally reveal which is his strength.

Opening Lead Against a Declared Trump

Quick action is good against a declared trump, as the Eldest hand or Leader should open with the following cards:

Lead Ace when holding—
1. Ace Queen, Jack, and others with re-entry card.

2. Ace, and seven small cards.

3. Ace, Queen, and five small cards.

4. Ace, Jack, and five small cards.

5. King, Queen, Jack, and others.

6. King, Queen, Ten, and others.

7. King, Queen and five small cards.

Lead Queen when holding—
1. Queen, Jack, Ten and others.

2. Queen, Jack, Nine, and others.

3. Ace, Queen, Jack, and others, without re-entry card.

Lead Jack when holding—
Jack, Ten Nine and others.

King, Jack, Ten and others.

In a no-trump make your long suit is in no danger of being ruffed as each card is worth its face value, so unless it is already established, the chances for bringing it in will be increased by opening with a low card. When opening with low, always lead your fourth best.

The only exception to the above in lead be the lowest card of the sequence.

When a fourth best card is led, deduct face value of the card led from Eleven, and the remainder will be the number of higher cards held by the other three players. For example: Eight from Eleven leaves three. There are three higher cards than Eight which are not in the leader's hand.

This rule is especially valuable in the no-trump play to the third hand player, and enables him to finesse. It is known as Foster's Rule of Eleven.

Second Hand Plays

Cover an honor with an honor, if you hold a perfect or imperfect four-chette.

Holding two or more cards in sequence, play the lower or lowest.

If possible, beat Dummy's holding, for it may save high cards in your partner's hand.

If Dummy can beat any card you hold of the suit, play low.

If you hold the ace and other cards of the suit which the Dummy leads, and trumps are against you, play your ace second in hand. If you wait, your ace may be trumped.

Never hesitate. By hesitation, information is given to the dealer and you assist him to place the strength and to finesse in Dummy's hand.

Third Hand Plays

Play your highest card if you can go higher than the cards already played. If you hold cards in sequence, play the lower or lowest of the sequence.

Never finesse in your partner's suit.

Questions and Answers

Q. What is a book?

A. The first six tricks won by a pair of partners.

Q. What is meant by By-Cards?

A. All tricks over six, or the book, are called By-Cards. For example, nine tricks are equal to three By Cards.

HAMILTON WILL GIVE LECTURES IN GREENE COUNTY

R. Hayes Hamilton, of this city, lecturer of the Hamilton Travelogues, has completed arrangements with T. Howard Winters, State Inspector of Teacher-Training to present his illustrated travelogues in each county of the state under the direction of the County Normal Directors.

Mr. Hamilton will leave Wednesday for Miami County to make preparations for his first lecture, which is to be presented at the West Milton Normal School, Thursday. Friday morning, the lecturer will speak at the Greenville high school in Darke county and on Friday evening at the West Alexandria high school in Preble county.

The "National Parks" lecture, featuring Yellowstone and Glacier Park's will be used on the first trip through the state. Hand colored views will be used also with the motion picture photography, where it is possible. The counties in the western part of the state will be visited first and arrangements are already pending with Paul C. Stetson, of the Dayton schools, to have this lecture presented at Steele, Stivers and Parker High Schools. Other lectures have been booked by Mr. Hamilton at Defiance College, Mount Notre Dame Academy at Reading, and Sacred Heart, at Clifton, Cincinnati.

Greene county will be benefited to a greater extent since Mr. Hamilton's home is in Xenia according to his own statement, Tuesday, and his lectures will be extended into the County Schools under the auspices of Superintendent H. C. Aultman and the Assistant county superintendents. "I became particularly interested in the rural schools through a visit to Michigan, where Henry Ford is playing a large part in those schools," said Mr. Hamilton. "Mr. Ford received his early education in the country schools, and he is now helping them to progress."

Lectures in Greene county will be held at Bellbrook, Spring Valley, Osborn, Cedarville and other rural districts. Only the normal schools, the colleges having normal departments and high schools will be reached in other counties, according to Mr. Hamilton.

Mr. Hamilton has made a specialty of lecturing at the educational institutions throughout the United States and this series will afford the schools and colleges of Ohio the first time to take advantage of his lectures. As a result of his agreement with the state department Mr. Hamilton will be unable to leave for his customary trip to California, where he will lecture on the Mission Play until a month later than he expected.

FATHER-IN-LAW FAVORS POSITION

Indianapolis, Jan. 11.—Unless a father in law's persuasion counts for naught, Postmaster General Will Hays will take the high salaried movie job. A. D. Thomas, chairman of the Indiana state board of pardons, is "Will's" father in law, and he wants his son in law to have the job.

"Will can get back into politics later if he wants to," Thomas said.

NO REST--NO PEACE

There's no peace and little rest for the one who suffers from a bad back, and distressing urinary disorders. Xenia people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Be guided by their experience.

Mrs. David Pohl, 751 W. Second St., Xenia, gave the following statement Aug. 2, 1917: "I suffered with lame back, but the most annoying symptom was the irregular action or my kidneys. I felt languid when I arose in the morning and it seemed I never could get any rest. I used Doan's Kidney Pills, which I got at Donges' Drug Store, and they helped me immediately and the second box cured me entirely."

On Aug. 15, 1921, Mrs. Pohl said: "I am glad to again say that Doan's Kidney Pills are the one reliable kidney remedy that cured me of kidney trouble some years ago. I have had no further occasion to use Doan's but I am glad to confirm the statement I gave in 1917 in behalf of this remedy."

Efficient Housekeeping

by Laura A. Kirkman

TWO GOOD HOME DINNERS

Your family will like the following simple but delicious dinners:
Celery Olives
Hot Pot of Mutton en Casserole
Coffee Spice Cakes with Chocolate
Sauce

Hot Pot of Mutton en Casserole: Cut two pounds of stewing mutton into small pieces, sprinkle flour over them and fry them in hot bacon fat. Cut 6 large pared potatoes into slices one-fourth of an inch thick and boil them until almost soft, then drain them, rinse in cold water and drain again. Cut 2 large onions into slices, parboil them also until just beginning to become tender, and drain. Place a layer of the fried meat-slices in the bottom of a medium-size casserole, add a layer of potato and onion, then another layer of the meat alternating the layers until all the materials are used. Season each layer as you add it, with salt and pepper. Have the top layer of potato, dotted with bits of butter. Pour in a scant pint of canned soup—chicken or consomme will do—to which you have added 2 tablespoons of tomato catsup. Cover the dish and cook in a moderate oven for 2 hours. Serve hot in same dish.

Spice Cakes with Chocolate Sauce: Cream together 2 tablespoons of butter and 1-2 cup of brown sugar; add 1-2 cup of dark molasses, 1 teaspoon each of ground ginger, cinnamon and grated nutmeg, and 1-2 teaspoon of ground allspice. Mix thoroughly, then add 1 teaspoon of soda dissolved in 3-4 of a cup of thick sour milk. Stir in enough sifted flour to form a fairly stiff cake batter. It should "ribbon" from the spoon. Turn into buttered cup-cake pans and bake in a moderate oven. Serve with:

Beef Loaf

Baked Potatoes

Coffee Canned Peas

Maple Cup Custards

Answer to "Alice": You did not write me far enough in advance of Christmas to enable me to get my reply to you. I am sorry, but of course it is only fair to answer my readers' letters in the order in which I receive them—and there were many, many on my desk when yours came. A month or even six weeks is not too far ahead to write—and I hope you will give me another opportunity to help you.

Thousands of Men and Women Are Being Deceived

By being persuaded to take a substitute for Vinol.

Your physician will tell you that there is no better strength creator or body builder known to medicine than the combination of tonics contained in Vinol, which are plainly printed on the label and contain among other things the curative elements of old fashioned Cod Liver Oil, without oil—Vegetable Iron—Beef Peptones—and Glycerophosphates.

Therefore why will weak, nervous people, feeble old people, mothers of delicate children, and convalescents be fooled by the extravagant claims made for some medicines when this standard remedy is guaranteed to restore strength and build you up or it costs you nothing, and you know what you are taking.

For many years Vinol has been sold in this city and you undoubtedly know many who have been benefited by its use. Surely you take no chances in trying Vinol because you know what you are taking and can get your money back if it fails to benefit you.

The Elbinger 8% Preferred Stock Carries a Valuable Conversion Privilege

Here is the security of a growing, time-tested corporation manufacturing a staple product. Dividends payable quarterly—redeemable at 110 per share—one share preferred may be converted into two shares of common.

Earnings for the past six years, 1915 to 1920 inclusive, averaged in excess of 125% per year on the common shares then outstanding.

THE Elbinger Shoe Manufacturing Company is offering the purchasers of their preferred stock the privilege of converting one share of the preferred into two shares of common any time prior to January, 1928. Besides netting the investor 8% per annum, he has the option of converting his preferred stock into common. With the continued success and further growth of this company the common stock earnings should be such as to make this conversion privilege very attractive.

Up to the present time this has been a close corporation—all of the common stock being held by the executives. But with the re-financing on a larger scale it was decided to offer this common stock to the public in units of one share preferred and one share common, price, $130 per unit.

The Elbinger Company are manufacturers of medium priced shoes for women—a product for which there is and always has been, a large, constant demand. Among their customers are numbered some of the country's largest mail order houses and retail shoe organizations. The majority of orders are for such quantities as will permit of substantial profits.

There are many liberal and attractive provisions drawn up in this preferred issue. Various safeguards protect the investor's capital. For a detailed description of the company, its property and this issue, SEND for our special illustrated booklet.

Legal opinion approved by Pogue, Hoffheimer & Pogue for the brokers, and Harmon, Colston, Goldsmith & Hoadly for the company.

HELEN HUNTER'S HUSBAND

BY JANE PHELPS

JACK RESENTS THE LOSS OF HIS STUDY TIME

All the time Jack was washing the dishes and Helen drying them she entertained him with a lively account of the doings at the club.

"There's a kity, you know," she said when he expressed surprise at the hostess furnishing so elaborate a tea,

"and it must pay for the food, or pretty nearly."

Jack was really disturbed. He frowned into silence. High stakes, a kitty—Helen was really gambling. He felt keen anxiety. He knew that she couldn't always win that when she lost she would come to him to pay her debts, or could he do it? He wondered if he could persuade Helen to give up the club. Helplessly he shrugged his shoulders, for he knew instinctively he could not.

Jack determined over and over to have a serious talk with Helen—not about the club, he realized that would be vain, but in connection with his duties outside and the work he tried to do at home. She must be made to realize she owed something to him.

that the housework for two could not tire her, especially as the heavy washing was put out. He couldn't keep up if he had to work until bedtime every night. Then, too, it gave him no time for reading and study.

Lately Howard Dunn had written several big policies. His commissions had been large. But Howard was always fresh, full of good spirits, while he felt dragged and old.

There was much about the business, too, he wished to learn. Often he had no time to read the instructions given to the agents by the company. He dared not take the middle of the day when he might "land a prospect," as he expressed it to Helen, and at night she kept him busy until he was too tired to grasp what he read even when he tried.

Helen continued to go to the club. And on the days she went Jack ate a cold dinner, prepared as best he could while she recounted her pleasure of the afternoon and told of the tempting dishes the hostess of the day had provided. She had been rather a consistent winner, although not again had she won as much as on that first afternoon. But $5, $8 or $12 each time had awakened a real gambling spirit in her. She was almost a fatalist in her belief that she could not lose. Yet she was becoming nervous, developing a temper at variance with the happy-go-lucky manner that had been hers up to now.

When Jack spoke of her nervousness, blaming her devotion to cards for it, she replied impatiently:

"If you would make enough so I could have made like other people, I wouldn't be nervous. I have to get up to now.

"If you would make enough so I could have made like other people, I wouldn't be nervous. I have to get up to now.
